HairlossTalk Revivogen Consumer Trial Results

July 15, 2001 - San Diego, CA

The following results were obtained by a web questionnaire HairlossTalk put together and sent out to over 150 verified Revivogen users who had been on the treatment (preferably) for 6 months or more. As you can see, only 24 people out of that 150 responded. Sorry folks, we tried. After viewing the following results, don't forget to check out the Revivogen Consumer Trial page, showing the results of the Revivogen-lead Consumer Survey's. Of course, for a combined view of both trials and a good look at how well Revivogen did for all 50 participants in both trials, check out the Summary

Comparisons Page.

HairlossTalk Questionnaire Results

30% of users reported No Response

Of

the people who saw no response with Revivogen, only 42% had been on it for more than 6 months.

This means that nearly 60% of those seeing no results hadn't been on it for 6 mo. yet.

However, 82% of those who saw results had been on it for longer than 6 months.

Revivogen User - Willstar

Age 22

Type of hair loss Receding Temples & General Thinning on Top

Other Treatments being used None

Using Revivogen for How Long? 8 Months

Results Results were ok. Results seem mixed to start with I shedded for a while (first 2-3 months) then it slowed right down. I felt like I was not shedding as much as before and the reasons for this where:

Less hair on pillow in morning

Hair seemed slightly thicker

less hair fall out generally (i.e. on desk at work, in shower etc.)

So between now and then it has balanced out really, some days my hair feels a lot thicker then normal and others it feels quite limp. I tend to avoid keeping checking it every day, as sometimes it can effect your confidence. The only side effects I have had is spots around the fore head, other then that I have seen nothing else I have noticed. Finally, I feel the product is helping to reduce my hairloss but would like to see a few hairs growing? I guess time will tell. P.S Thank you for your site I feel it is a help to all men and women out there suffering with this blooming hairloss.

Revivogen User - GregMilhaus

Age 29

Type of hair loss Receding Temples, Very slight thinning on Crown

Other Treatments being used None

Using Revivogen for How Long? 9 Months

Results At the six month mark, I evaluated the difference. Temples appear to have filled in slightly, although I would like to wait until the 1 year mark to confirm. Main difference is markedly decreased hair loss when washing.

Using Revivogen for How Long? 6 Months

Results When I first started using Revivogen my hairloss slowed down and the shedding I was going through about every 4 months was much less. I am now going through another shedding period after 6 months of use. But this time it is as bad as before I started using Revivogen. I was very happy with the way it slowed down my hairloss but now I'm a little worried. I'm going to continue using it to see how I get through this shedding period. As for hair regrowth, Revivogen gave me little thin hairs. I was surprised to see some thin hairs come in the front of my hairline. But after 6 months these hairs have not grown any thicker. On a scale from 1 to 10 I give Revivogen a 6 for slowing down my hairloss (would have given a 8 if I didn't have this shedding now) I give a 2 for regrowth. this maybe a low number but I would only give Propecia and Rogaine a 4. A score of 10 would be full hair restoration. Nothing has even come close. I would recommend Revivogen to slow hairloss so you can by your time until someone comes out with a real working hair restoration product. I will only use all natural products. No way will I screw with my Hormones!!!

Revivogen User - Newelly

Age 25

Type of hair loss Receding Temples and Thinning Throughout

Other Treatments being used Minoxidil

Using Revivogen for How Long? Only 3 Months

Results Results? Not many so far. Increased shedding, or either my forehead has grown, or more likely the hair on my forehead has receded.

Revivogen User - Kern

Age 33

Type of hair loss Bald Spot in Back

Other Treatments being used None

Using Revivogen for How Long? 9 Months

Results Loss appears to have slowed, yet I don't count hairs in the shower or anything like that. It seems like fine hairs are filling in the bald spot. Overall, I'm pleased with the spray & shampoo I use.

Revivogen User - Walnut

Age 40

Type of hair loss Significant Thinning throughout. Especially receding hairline and Vertex. Thin enough to see the scalp through the hair.

Other Treatments being used - Rogaine 2% - Propecia

Using Revivogen for How Long? 7 Months

Results My hair loss was slow but controlled with Rogaine & Propecia, but noticeably increased after addition of Revivogen. In short, I'm worse off now than if I hadn't used it. Consistent use has resulted in a fair amount of scalp irritation (itching & flaking which I didn't have before), but absolutely no hair regrowth, and an marked increase in the rate of loss. I can't see any benefit from Revivogen and cannot recommend it to anyone. I'll switch to a copper peptide formula to quell the scalp irritation & hopefully slow the rate of loss. This might be the underlying problem with Revivogen - the scalp inflammation & irritation might be offsetting any benefit to be gained from the proactive ingredients.

Revivogen User - Leon

Age 26

Type of hair loss The usual horseshoe front and thinning throughout the middle. No Bald spot.

About a NW 2.5

Other Treatments being used None

Using Revivogen for How Long? 9 Months

Results I have had pretty good results with Revivogen at the sides, the temples have grown quite a bit of hair and that whole horseshoe shape has been reduced considerably. I shed a little more than usual but not enough to lose sleep over.

Within 2 months of starting the treatment small hairs started appearing along either side of my head above the temples, these hairs took ages to grow and thicken but in the past 5 months have gradually thickened up and increased in amount to the extent that the hairline at the edges has filled in about 1 cm of hair that wasn't there before! It must be said that these hairs still are not as thick as my hair at the back of my head and I'm wondering if they will ever really thicken fully but nevertheless they are still welcome and I'm hoping many more will grow!

So I'm very happy with it from this aspect.

I still have problems at the frontal hairline and throughout the middle which is deteriorating continuously. It must be said that I haven't really given the front and middle as much attention with Revivogen as the temples and sides because they were not really that bad when I started this treatment and have only recently shown noticeable thinning, but I did apply about 0.5ml here each night so it wasn't completely overlooked. I have in the past month given a little more than usual attention to this area with Revivogen and finally added Proscar 1.25mg to try and give DHT at the front/middle a good kicking. I'm hoping proscar and Revivogen together will take care of the middle where it is getting worse. I don't believe Revivogen worked as well for me at the front/middle as it did at the hairline sides/temple region. I have been using the original formula and never used the new formula (of which I have heard some bad reports on it's effectiveness. Who knows whether this is true). After using Revivogen on it's own for 8 months I am in at least a good position to judge it's effectiveness as a single treatment for hairloss. I believe that it is definitely effective to some extent ...otherwise I would not have had any regrowth, but It's probably best used with something like Propecia in combination to fight hairloss.

My belief is that it is definitely not a snake oil as it has been effective on me and many others. It also has many ingredients which are proven DHT inhibitors (saw palmetto is one I'm not so sure of). People should give it a go if not getting anything from their current treatments...it may work for you, even small amounts of regrowth is better than nothing. Glad I could be of some help.

Any questions or comments, just email me. Best of Luck!!!

Type of hair loss Thinning Throughout

Other Treatments being used Rogaine 2%

Using Revivogen for How Long? 4.5 Months

Results None. I stopped using it. I didn't see any reduction in hair loss.

Revivogen User - TDav

Age 26

Type of hair loss Diffuse thinning not noticeable to anyone but Myself

Other Treatments being used Nizoral Shampoo

Using Revivogen for How Long? 4.5 Months as directed, and have reduced to Twice a week

Results I haven't seen any dramatic results on Revivogen, but keep in mind that I have only been on it regularly for 4 months... and these last two months of use have been very sporadic. Here are some of the observations I noticed while using it: I noticed increased shedding for the first 2-3 months, and my scalp seemed to be much more oily than normal almost the entire time I was using Revivogen. I'm not sure that Revivogen was the cause, but I will say since I've stopped using it so often, the oiliness is almost completely gone and the shedding has noticeably subsided. My hair is definitely thinner than when I began back in January, but not a drastic change. I believe in the logic behind the ingredients in Revivogen... but I do not think I will continue using it.

Revivogen User - Gregor

Age 34

Type of hair loss Receding Temples and a Bald Spot on the Crown of my head

Other Treatments being used None

Using Revivogen for How Long? 6 Months

Results With 6 months of use I have determined that my hairloss has been halted. At this point in time I cannot say that I have noticed any significant regrowth in my hair but I am hopeful, with continued usage, that there might be some. If nothing else, the ability to maintain my current amount of hair is worth the investment in Revivogen.

Age 28

Type of hair loss Receding Temples

Other Treatments being used None

Using Revivogen for How Long? 12 Months - (1 Year)

Results It has stopped 90% of my hairloss, losing very little if any now, though I have had no re-growth through it so I think it's a case of having to use this in conjunction with another product.

Other Treatments being used - Minoxidil - Crinagen - Folligen - Polysorbate 80

Using Revivogen for How Long? 7 Months

Results Shedding for a couple of weeks, before Revivogen I was seeing about 15 - 20 hairs in the sink a day. After Revivogen its down to about 2-5.

Revivogen User - Shamrock

Age 37

Type of hair loss Thinning at the Crown and some recent thinning at the Temples

Other Treatments being used 5% Rogaine on Crown only

Using Revivogen for How Long? 3 Months

Results My hair overall looks a little thicker overall and quite a bit thicker at the temples. When I look very closely, I don't see new hairs growing, but I see my remaining hair shafts are very thick and healthy-looking. I don't see any shedding or further thinning. No miracle cures or dramatic hair growth, but a moderate improvement. Enough to continue use.

Revivogen User - TDalge

Age 25

Type of hair loss Receding Temples

Other Treatments being used - Regaine - Proscar

Using Revivogen for How Long? 6 Months

Results Excellent - thickness has definitely returned even at the temples although not as much, this area may take longer but I am pleased with the results thus far. I am not sure whether it has been Revivogen alone, but I was using Regaine and Proscar for about 3 years with very little results - I think these products work best when used in tandem.
