The Revivogen Consumer Trial - Preliminary Results

July 15, 2001 - San Diego, CA

The following are the results of the separate Revivogen-lead consumer trials. HairlossTalk has not verified the authenticity of these results.

The Revivogen Consumer trial was intended to provide a reliable and identifiable user feedback about Revivogen' benefits or lack of for hair loss. The participants were enrolled independently by filing out a questionnaire on Regrowth.com and were chosen by Revivogen according to the following criteria:

1. Male or Female ages 18-65
2. Mild to Moderate Hairloss due to Androgenetic Alopecia for 5 years or less
3. Not using Propecia, Rogaine, or other products for hair loss before or during the trial period
4. Free of any major ailment and not using any other medication.

The participants have agreed to use Revivogen exclusively for one year and provide their feedback in exchange for free products at no charge. The feed back is emailed by the participants directly to all websites reporting their results.

After viewing the following results, don't forget to check out the results of our own Consumer Survey on Revivogen at the following page: HairlossTalk Revivogen Consumer Trial.

Type of hair loss Thinning in Front

Used as Directed? Yes

Using Revivogen for How Long? 4.5 Months

Results: I do believe that Revivogen has reduced my hair loss but not totally stopped it. I tend to notice less hairs falling out too when I comb.

Revivogen User - Patricia

Type of hair loss Overall Thinning

Used as Directed? Yes

Using Revivogen for How Long? 5 Months

Results: It stopped my loss up until March 31 - it was great. Then I suddenly have had handfuls of hair each day - > 50 in the shower since 04-01-01 - about 2.5 months now. It simply has to be extreme stress and perhaps peri-menopausal hormone changes. I don't take hormone replacement - and wonder if I should. I do say that the miniaturized hair has been thickening, yes. However I am having even more thinning - not increased fullness at all. However, the Revivogen shampoo is keeping the hair looking thicker - but you can still easily see my scalp through my dark hair. I continue to have hair loss - but I am very sure it is stress-related. I have gone through a lay-off, and the stress of looking for a new job - I am sole support of myself and I own a home in expensive Northern Calif. I am now training in a new position and am feeling very positive and relaxed about it. I anticipate that I may have better hair results now that I am settled. I am disappointed to tell you, however, that I have had no noticeable hair regrowth and indeed I would describe that I have noticeable hair loss during this time. I have always had a "widow's peak" hairline - and the widow's peak has disappeared in the past 3 months - meaning - all of that hair has fallen out and the hairline is receding. I so wish I could tell you of great results - but I can't. I'm not having great results now - but I am NOT giving up. Dr. Andrew Weil was on CNN and he talked of a woman who had chemotherapy and simply decided her hair would not fall out. Her hair did not fall out. I am putting my mind to the fact that Revivogen is going to work for me.

Please stay with me.

Using Revivogen for How Long? 7 Months

Results: I have frontal recession only. Daily application seems to have no effect on the very slow but continual receding hairline. Will continue using product for at least the next few months. Have not had any prior success with Rogaine or Propecia either.

Type of hair loss Norwood 2

Using Revivogen for How Long? 7 Months

Results: So far I've noticed some improvement in my hair. Nothing phenomenal but my hair seems thicker and it appears that the hair on my temples has started to become thicker. Overall I'm pleased with the results, I think Revivogen really does help slow the balding process.

Age - Sex 22r - Male

Type of hair loss Slight Male Pattern Baldness

Used as Directed? Yes

Using Revivogen for How Long? 3 Months

Results: I have noticed slightly thickening of existing hair, and it is too soon to see if hair is regrowing. I am impressed so far! Hair loss seems to have diminished.

Revivogen User - ZDRAVKO

Age - Sex 33m - Male

Type of hair loss Moderate Hair Loss

Used as Directed? Yes

Using Revivogen for How Long? 6 Months

Results: Revivogen has reduced my hair loss, but no regrowth

Revivogen User - Stiepan

Age - Sex 51r - Female

Type of hair loss 60-70% loss at the Temples

Used as Directed? Yes

Using Revivogen for How Long? 6 Months

Results: I am really pleased with the results, Almost immediately upon using the shampoo, my hair seemed fuller and had more body and I noticed that fewer hairs were left in the sink after blow drying my hair. The hair at my temples, always thinner and more receded than the rest of my hairline, had dramatically receded in the 6 - 9 months prior to my use of Revivogen. I had considered a hair transplant (even had an evaluation/consultation), but my husband searched the internet and discovered your trial. I have had new growth and regrowth in my temple areas and would evaluate the results as 90 - 100% regrowth of my original hair loss.

Type of hair loss Considerable thinning from hairline all the way back to the crown of the scalp. "M" patterned hairline is pronounced.

Used as Directed? Yes

Using Revivogen for How Long? 5.5 Months

Results: Since starting treatment approximately six months ago, some of the existing hair has noticeably thickened. moreover, the miniaturized hair that has sprouted up at the outer fringe of the hairline has appeared to have thickened over time and there has been an increase in the number of these miniaturized hairs in this area. The shampoo part of the treatment has also assisted in the resulting growth and retention of existing hair.

Revivogen User - Charles

Age - Sex 38m - Male

Type of hair loss Moderate Thinning throughout - Receding hairline

Used as Directed? Yes

Using Revivogen for How Long? 4 Months

Results: Perhaps, it is hard to tell how much I would have lost had I not been using it, but it does not appear that I have lost much or any since I have been. At this point, my hair looks about the same as it did before I started using Revivogen, perhaps it looks minimally thicker. I am certain there has been no regrowth. The results have been fairly insignificant so far, but perhaps it is retarding further loss.

Type of hair loss Thin hair on Top of Head

Using Revivogen for How Long? 5 Months

Results: I have now used the product for almost 5 months with fantastic results. I first used the product as directed (1 ml.) at night every night. When the second supply was sent they suggested that 2 ml. could be applied every night. So I then increased the dosage to 2ml. I am really pleased with the results since the first 3 months of use.

My hair has become thicker and it appears to be growing back. I have almost grown back all the hair I had previously lost. I have very little see through spots on the top of my head. I do not need to use a hair piece to fill the top. I'm not sure if its the deep cleansing shampoo or the solution that is applied at night that is making the difference. I agreed to do this trial thinking that nothing topical could ever have any results.

I am so over joyed that I feel it is a miracle. All my friends and family have noticed the difference (although I never told any of them about the trial) and I regularly get compliments on my hair again. I hope this is not just a dream and I lose it all again. So far I am more than happy.
